Dukosi Achieves ISO 27001 Certification - Strengthening Its Commitment to Information Security Management

EDINBURGH, United Kingdom, 22 July, 2025 -- Dukosi Ltd, the technology company revolutionizing the performance, safety and sustainability of high-power battery systems, announces it has achieved ISO 27001 certification, the internationally recognized standard for information security management systems (ISMS). This certification underscores Dukosi's commitment to maintaining the highest standards of information security and risk management, safeguarding data confidentiality, integrity and availability across its operations.

Mark Pinto, CEO of Dukosi, stated: "At Dukosi, we've always prioritized security and reliability in everything we do. It underpins our commitment to excellence. Achieving ISO 27001 certification is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our teams in ensuring information security is embedded in all aspects of the business from how we engage with our customers and partners to the technologies and products we develop."

Achieving the externally audited and accredited ISO 27001 certification marks a significant milestone, reinforcing the company's dedication to implementing and maintaining robust information security practices. Along with its commitment to product safety, this certification demonstrates to customers, partners and stakeholders that Dukosi implements comprehensive and robust measures to protect sensitive information and mitigate cybersecurity risks, reinforcing trust and confidence in its products and operations.
